A Necessity of Civilization.

The telegraph boy, whether we like him or not, is a necessity of civilization. He may knock up against pedestrians in the street in a rather thoughtless manner, and now and then—but this is a very rare occurrence—he may neglect to deliver an important despatch owing to the superior attractions of "knuckle-down," or he may exhibit less speed in getting back to his headquarters after the message has been delivered at the private address that he showed on the route out. It is quite impossible, by any process at present known to science, to prevent boys now and then from being a little boyish, and, if it were possible, it would be a great pity to apply the process. As a general rule, it must be admitted that the telegraphic urchin acts as a very faithful "bailee" of the buff-colored envelope during its transit from the nearest postoffice to its destination. The world would be somewhat duller, the streets would be a trifle less lively, by the total suppression of telegraph boys. If, for example, everybody took to the plan of hooking themselves on to a telephone office, the use of the telegraph messenger would suddenly cease. We should miss him very much. Some idle tears might be shed, especially on whose favorite comes no blundering boy has ever trod, in contemplating his sad and untimely fate. In process of time we may arrive at some invention which will entirely obviate all need of any intermediary to distribute the telegraphic messages as they arrive. Telegraph wires may be laid on to every house, like the water and the gas. Or, as we have hinted, telephones may come into general popularity. Or a patent double-barreled automatic and mechanical telegraph boy may be discovered among the inventions of the dim and distant future, which will bring our messages round to our separate doors with lightning-like rapidity and unfailing regularity. There would be no fear of a mechanical boy playing pitch-penny in the gutter. These developments may, we repeat, be reserved for posterity to gloat over. At present, however, we cannot do without the human, the often much too human, telegraph boy. He indisputably holds the field.

The Improvement of Umbrellas.

The improvement of umbrellas has been a field well cultivated by inventors. Hundreds of patents have been taken out, most of them for useless and some of them for fantastic and grotesque notions. One brilliant inventor devised a combination of umbrella and fowling-piece, though this might perhaps be more justly reckoned among gun patents than among umbrella patents. Another inserted a pipe in the stick, so that one might console himself with tobacco while battling with the elements. A fourth fixed a sun dial in the handle. A fourth, laying himself out to please an effeminate generation, proposed that a kind of warming-pan arrangement should be inserted in the stick, so as to insure that the fingers should not be chilled on a cold day. Another patentee put a small window in the cloth so that the wearer might see where he was going and avoid unpleasant and undignified encounters with strangers. Another thought it would be a nice thing to have a curtain tucked away inside the rim, which could be let down so as to envelope one's body like a mantle, and yet another conceived that the umbrella might have its silken expanse folded up inside the stick, and went to the expense of patenting his idea. The umbrella we carry about to-day does not seem susceptible of improvement, except in one direction. There can be no doubt that the circular shape, with the stick passing through the centre, does not give the greatest possible amount of protection for the quantity of silk exposed. When the rain is coming straight down a man wants to be where the stick is, right in the centre of his little canopy. As it is, he is pushed to one side, and, one shoulder gets wet, while part of his umbrella is of little use to him. It may be impossible to remedy this defect, but, if not, the man who succeeds in doing so will probably be lucky enough to carry off the fortune which the ingenious gentlemen just referred to fondly hoped in their day to obtain. What is most wanted, however, is an invention which would cause an umbrella, when lent to a friend or left behind in a shop, to return to its owner like a boomerang.

A Good Koden.

A well round-up of stockmen near Cheyenne has proved very successful. The hunters in four parties covered the country for several miles, enclosing a wild canyon, the home of the destructive beaver. Thirty-two beavers were snooked out of their caves and shot down. A barbecue followed. Two hundred persons took part in the chase.

The Greek Fishermen.

The Greek fishermen are becoming bold and defiant and begun an open warfare against the officials. Captain Dalton of the river police had a shooting match with a party of twenty fishermen at "The Cutoff" last Thursday. Charges were afterward made by both parties and the case will come up in Benicia this week.

Cholera in Michigan.

Dr. F. D. Larke, of Rogers City, Michigan, says the epidemic of last year in Presque Isle county, in which so many persons lost their lives, was choleric dysentery instead of cholera as first reported. He used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says it succeeded, where all other remedies failed. Not a single case was lost in which it was used. This remedy is the most reliable and most successful medicine known for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea and bloody flux. Twenty-five and fifty-cent bottles for sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

It should be generally known that Dr. Henry's Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is the only remedy that can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery, diarrhoea and bloody flux. Twenty-five and fifty-cent bottles for sale by Osburn & Shoemaker.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THE GAZETTE has worked up a sentiment in favor of spending the money appropriated last Winter for irrigation purposes on some stream other than the Carson, now that it has been determined that it cannot be profitably spent on that stream, and its suggestions are meeting with, as yet, a lukewarm support from members of the Commission; but we propose to keep hammering away on the question until they at last investigate the matter. When there are so many places that afford great inducements for the proper expenditure of money, and so much good can be accomplished by it, the GAZETTE is anxious to see it tried. We are satisfied that enough more taxable property can be added to the State's list to demonstrate the wise policy of bonding the State for the further prosecution of the work. Twenty-five thousand dollars expended on the Little Truckee would store much water and assist materially in solving the problem.

NATURAL facilities, says the Colusa Sun, don't count much in these days of push and enterprise. The combined effort of a people will build a city in a desert, but all the natural advantages in the world will do no good if possessed by a people happy and contented with what comes, and who discount the actual advantages and hold property up to what it might be made worth with the push and enterprise added to it.

George Hozeltine, proprietor of the San Francisco Evening Post is at Webber Lake rusticiating, after the manner of the millionaire. Readers of the Chronicle will remember the interesting and discriminating letters from Washington published weekly over Mr. Hozeltine's signature. He has now become the owner of the Post and is devoting his energies and talents to it with fine success.

In addition to being a misfortune to the owners the closing down of the Sierra Buttes mine will deprive the surrounding country of a market for years has paid cash for all the surplus that could be raised at very best prices. It is a great loss to Sierra Valley as well as to the foothills.

A man went over Niagara in a barrel last Saturday. Now let him come and make the trip suggested by the GAZETTE of riding a log down Burkhalter's chute at Camp 18.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Light rains fell in Los Angeles and San Bernardino counties Saturday.

The Oregon crop yield is not up to that of last year, but the quality is superior.

Thursday and Friday thirty-three car loads of sealions from Alaska were shipped East through Sacramento.

Incendiaries are supposed to be at work in the neighborhood of Orland, Cal. Four fires have occurred since Friday.

Trouble Feared.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 3.—In a solemn row between white men and negroes Friday night in Bibb county, the killing of John Lawrence by two negro burglars and the lynching of the latter Saturday, caused much bad feeling between the two races. A murderous conflict is expected every moment. The negroes have massed in and about Centerville well armed. So great was the alarm felt Saturday night that two trusty messengers were sent to Nashville for 100 Winchester rifles.

A Marriage in the Blaine Family.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Emmons Blaine, Mrs. James G. Blaine and Miss Harriet Blaine are at the Spring House. The rest of the Blaine family are expected in a few days, in anticipation of Emmons' marriage to Miss McCormick on the 26th. Great preparations for the event are in progress.

Acids Going Up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The chemical trade is much agitated over the formation of a combination of thirteen acid manufacturers of New York and vicinity, who virtually control the manufacture and sale of acids in this market. Prices have already been advanced.

A Railroad Accident.

NORRISTOWN, Penn., Sept. 3.—On the Philadelphia and Redding road, this morning a dozen Italians in a hand-car were run into by a freight-car running at a high rate of speed. All were thrown high into the air and one was killed and a half-dozen injured.

HUNTING TREASURE.

Imprisoned Apaches to Remain at Mt. Vernon.

MARRIAGE IN THE BLAINE FAMILY

The Cronin Case--Work of Getting a Jury Progressing Slowly.

The Cronin Case.

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—The Cronin trial was resumed this morning and Judge McConnell decided to allow the following questions to be asked by the defense of the witness:

First—Have you formed an opinion as to whether Dr. Cronin was taken to the Carbon cottage by the horse and buggy engaged by Daniel Coughlin from the Dinan livery man?

Second—Have you an opinion as to whether or not Martin Burke, one of the defendants, was a tenant of said Carbon cottage?

Third—Have you an opinion that the so-called Clan-Na-Gael society is in any way to blame for the death of Dr. Cronin?

Fourth—Have you formed an opinion as to whether the death of Dr. Cronin was the result of a conspiracy?

Fifth—Have you formed an opinion as to whether any of these defendants was a member of said conspiracy?

The selection of a jury was then resumed.

Not Very Important.

By Associated Press.]

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—At yesterday's session of the American Association for the advancement of science, a large number of papers were read, including one on natural science by Mrs. Laura Osborne Tascot, in which she characterized the Americans as the most wasteful people on the earth, and one by Ed. Preston, of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, on the Peruvian Arc.

The Council at midnight completed the list of officers to be presented to the Association to-day. George L. Goodell, of Cambridge, Mass., is named for President; F. W. Putnam, of Cambridge, Permanent Secretary; H. C. Bolton, of New York, General Secretary; James Landon, of Toronto, Secretary of Council; William Tilly, of Mauch Chunk, Pa., Treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at Indianapolis.

A Deputy Sheriff Shot.

By Associated Press.]

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3.—News was just received from Franklin, La., in the Third Congressional District, stating that Deputy Sheriff Jacobs (Rep.) had been shot.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—The only participants of the shooting of Jacobs at Franklin, is the following received by Chairman Moore of the Democratic Committee from John A. O'Neil, an old and respected citizen of Franklin. Jacobs was troublesome and officious at the polls. Neither Commissioners nor by-standers knew he was a Deputy Sheriff, so when leaving the Court miffing threats he drew his pistol and made the murderous assault he was shot down before he could fire. The wound is not necessarily fatal. No disturbance whatever followed.

The Dressed Meat Question.

By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—At to-day's meeting of the Senate Committee on dressed beef and transportation, A. C. Halliwell, of the Drovers' Journal, was examined and asked if he thought the dressed beef industry prospering in Omaha and Kansas City. Halliwell said it was gaining very rapidly. He thought the depressed condition of trade in St. Louis was not due to the combination which discriminated against St. Louis dressed beef in favor of that shipped from Chicago. He had heard that three men were in a combination of that kind, but did not think it was for the purpose of diverting trade from St. Louis, as one of them had extensive interests in that city. There was an agreement by which they received $15 per car rebate on meat shipped from Chicago, but the witness thought it was a discrimination against Chicago which that rebate did not overcome.

The Strike and the Ripper.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

A DANGEROUS MAN.

Sheriff Cady of Lassen County Hotly Pursues a Stage Robber and Succeeds in Capturing Him After Being Shot Three Times. News was brought in by the N. C. & O. passenger crew last night of the arrest of the man who stopped the south-bound Bidwell stage a few days ago. It seems that Sheriff Cady of Lassen county, with a deputy, was in hot pursuit, when the object of their search was seen to run out of the brush near Prattville in Big Valley. The Sheriff and his deputy immediately left their backboard and the Sheriff ordered the fugitive to stop. The robber immediately opened fire, shooting the Sheriff three times—once in the ankle and twice in the thigh. The shooting frightened the team, which started to run, when the deputy left the Sheriff and started to capture the team. In the meantime Sheriff Cady, notwithstanding his wounds, managed to get one bullet into the robber's carcass, when his pistol got out of fix and would not work, but he advanced under fire and knocked him man down with a well-directed blow on the head and handcuffed him before he regained consciousness. The Sheriff has proven himself a sleuth hound on the trail of an evil doer and a brave officer when the time for action began. It is learned that he got out of the treasure box $1,000, of which he had spent $5, leaving $995, which they found on his person. Additional particulars will be published as soon as received.

Wells-Fargo ought to pay Mr. Cady's doctor bills and give him a handsome reward besides for the energy he displayed in the capture of a dangerous man.

The robber bought the shotgun he used, and which was found by the Sheriff a day or two after the robbery, at Truckee, and is supposed to be the same man who left here and boarded the train at a point about four miles north of Reno.

TO-NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT

"Old Lavender" to be Produced to a Reno Audience.

The Enterprise says: Harrigan's "Old Lavender" was a gratifying success last night. Though the piece was an old acquaintance, a large audience filled the house. Harrigan as the dignified old toper, gentle, honest and eloquent, but exceedingly thirsty, was ludicrously natural.

The deaf old woman of Miss Hattie Moore, assisted materially in keeping the sense of the ridiculous on the alert, and the so. go. were all enjoyable. As nearly the entire interest depends upon the character of "Old Lavender," but little is required from the other members of the company, but each part was, nevertheless, very creditably sustained. There is a pathetic side to the situation of the poor old soaker, who, in the gratification of his longing for drink, philosophically accepts his fallen condition, but is unable to forget the days of a brighter existence. The once fastidious good liver reduced to smoking old cigar stumps, the gift of a rascally negro, is a sadly comic picture of real life that touches the softer side of the heart, while exciting mirth by its grotesque realism. The company produces "Old Lavender" in Reno to-night, and a good house will certainly greet this awkward, seedy, kindly old toper.

The company appear here to-night, and should be greeted by a full house.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Bills Allowed—The Board Ordered the N. C. & O. Obstruction at Fifth Street Removed.

The Board of Commissioners met yesterday pursuant to adjournment. Present—T. K. Hyman (Chairman), Wm. Merrill, W. P. McLaughlin, Commissioners; T. V. Julien, Clerk; D. Allen, District Attorney; L. J. Flint, Sheriff. The bills against the county were allowed and can be found in the GAZETTE's advertising columns.

R. H. Lindsay and Pierce Evans appeared before the Board and complained of the N. C. & O. R. R. for obstructing Lake street at the crossing. The Board ordered the obstructions removed within five days, and if not done by the Co., the Chief of Police has orders to remove them.

ADIG MCOOP.

The Reno GAZETTE made a big scoop in reporting the Senate Committee meeting at Carson City last week. What is the matter with the local papers, as they had but a short notice about it—Auntie Reville.

The GAZETTE publishes all the news.

Order of Eastern Star. The Order of the Eastern Star will hold their regular meeting at Masonic Hall to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock, and a general attendance is particularly desired. By order of W. M.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence. Loose hogs trouble the slumbers of the Alturas paper. A town that is getting to be a town needs no loose hogs.

Geo. Sayles of Webber shot a Pelican that measured eight feet and four inches from tip to tip. He sent the wings to Mrs. E. L. Fulton.

It is estimated that it will cost $1,500,000 to tap Lake Tahoe from the Kingsbury grade canyon, which puts it out of reach of Nevada capital.

The White Pine News says: These unprecedented hard times are forcing many good, old-time citizens to leave the county and seek new fields to support themselves and their families.

Ed. Asher, a brakeman on the C. P. R., had one of his feet injured while uncoupling cars at Grand Hill Saturday night. He was taken to the hospital at Sacramento for treatment.

GOING TO SUCCEED.

The Steam Wagons Doing Well But Grinding up the Road. The GAZETTE is averse to criticizing anything that tends towards progress or the development of this new land, that needs development so much. The steam wagons that are engaged in hauling lumber from Peck & Lewis' mill, four miles north of Sardinia Valley on the Loyalton road, are doing better and better all the time and promise to bring into market an immense stretch of country that cannot be reached by horse teams. This means increased prosperity for the whole eastern slope of the Sierras. It means more saw mills, with the consumption of hay, vegetables, beef mutton and other supplies, besides making work for men and horses by hundreds. About the worst objection that can be raised on the part of outsiders is the discomforts which the traveling public are put to by the wagons. They are an ugly thing for a strange team to meet and they make the roads they use very dusty. One of the two that Mr. Roberts has on the Verdi road, weighs 20 tons and the other a little less. They haul a big train of heavily loaded wagons behind them. One had 7 and the other 5 in tow last week and the road being mostly clay gets very bad. A good hard winter will help it out and Mr. Roberts' plan of putting on a sprinkler is carried out it will be one of the best roads in America for the wagon needs a smooth surface and chuck holes cannot be tolerated. Teams soon get used to it and make but little fuss after they have met it once or twice. If right of way could be obtained Mr. Roberts would build a road up Box Creek, connecting with the old one at the top of the hill on the divide between Crove Valley and Dog Valley. He would also run across Sardinia on the north side which would save distance and leave the old road clear. That is the route all who seek the mountains and lakes in summer have to travel and it is a beautiful trip, but now the dust is so bad a man would not know his own wife after driving over it.

INTERESTING CHANGES.

Earthquakes Make a Remarkable Change in Goose Lake. The Lake county Examiner says: J. W. Hannaker, who has been surveying on the Goose Lake front, says there are sage brush stubs and roots inside the new meander line as large as a man's wrist, and look to be a hundred years old, and tell where Goose Lake was several feet deep two years ago. The theory advanced by some, and which seems reasonable, is that Pitt river had its source in the mountains south of Lakeview, and what is now known as the "Big Slough" was one of its channels. But an earthquake or some other disturbance threw up an embankment, stopping the waters and formed what is now known as Goose Lake. From the south side of the lake can still be seen a clearly defined river channel, which now leads direct to the head of Pitt river.

Blinded Him With Cayenne Pepper.

Hugh Miller, a brakeman on the swing train between here and Truckee, had an experience with tramps at Boca yesterday that he will not soon forget. Several of the varmints jumped on the train and were promptly put off, but no sooner than they hit the ground one of them threw a handful of cayenne pepper into his eyes and completely blinded him. They made their escape.

Taking the Survey.

The Genoa Courier says: About half a dozen tents pitched at Woodford form the headquarters for Col. Bridges' men who are engaged in surveying the canal from Hope Valley to the Sheridan vicinity. They have finished surveying the canal and Dutch Valleys to the grand reservoir in Long Valley.

Suffering for the Want of Water.

The Modoc Independent is informed by Mr. Van Loan of Madeline plains that up to two weeks ago cattle on the plains were doing splendidly, but water has become so very scarce that they have ceased to thrive; in fact, they are losing flesh now.

Free Lecture.

Mrs. E. J. Talbot, from Elko, will deliver a lecture in the M. E. Church to-morrow (Wednesday) evening at 7:30, in the interest of the W. C. T. U. The choir will furnish good music on the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. A. C. SESSIONS, Secretary.

Be Merciful to Yourself.

And heed the appeals for assistance put forth by your liver, when the organ is out of order. Among these are distress in the right side and through the right shoulder blade, yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, fixed tongue, sour breath, lack headache, and above all, irregularity of the bowels. The mercy you extend to the afflicted organ is wisely shown by a prompt course of medication with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, most genial of alteratives, and the hepatic gland early reciprocates the deserved attention by resuming its secretive functions actively and regularly. Among the accompanying good results are renewed digestion, freedom from headache and a resumption of activity of the bowels. All bilious symptoms disappear, and appetite and sleep improve. Beneficial effects of the Bitters in malarial disease, kidney disorder, rheumatic ailments and nervousness.

No Doctor or Lawyer—More Bull-ton and Loss of Snow. The Homer Index of the 31st ult. says:

Lundy has neither a doctor nor a lawyer. As we enjoy perfect health, the former would starve to death, and the latter is useless where shotgun argument prevails.

Fred. Schwartz has without doubt got a good mine in the Mono-Bullion. The vein holds a steady width of about ten inches, and being good ground to work the ore is easily extracted. He will keep on during the Winter, and when Spring comes he will not only have a good lot of ore on hand, sufficient to afford him more than wages for his labor, but he will own a piece of valuable property. Powder and perseverance will accomplish great things.

The long continued warm weather has melted the snow from ground that was never buried to the sight of mortal man before. The great field of neve on the northern declivity of Mount Dana has noticeably contracted under the dissipating influence of the burning sun, and for the first time in the memory of white men the Mantion ledge beyond the head of Mill Creek Canyon is entirely clear of snow on the west side, but Mount Conness, half a mile further west, shows no sign of doffing its icy jacket.
